

Parent Newsletter - April 2019

Welcome back everyone! I hope you all had a fun time on your spring break. Speaking of fun...we will start our month with April fool's jokes, because all these kids LOVE silly fun. This month's theme is Trees and Insects...but we will also explore Earth Day and get our little garden planted. We hope the weather warms and we can spend a lot more of our day outside. We have two exploratory walks this month...in our forest and finally to our beach!

We are also welcoming new students, Rosie and Oscar (who has been already coming for a few weeks). I hope we can make them feel welcome and at home in our program.

We will have two field trips this month...we will walk to the Lund Recycling center and pick up trash along the way, as part of our Earth Day topics. The baby goats are here already so we will go visit my farm and see the baby goats at the beginning of April. Maybe some will be brave enough to milk the mama goats too? We will be meeting at my farm so that they can get a chance to try their hand at milking in the morning. We will then have our snack in the orchard and head back to school. We need extra parents and drivers for the field trip to see the baby goats, and an extra parent for the walk to the recycling center would also be helpful.

We are making our own little fairy houses and gardens, making fairy potions, making worm farms, painting Easter eggs, and generally exploring as the world is exploding out into Spring!

Our monthly parent meeting is April 10th at 6:30pm. We will be planning our next Lund Flea market contributions, and figuring out when to have a work party for our preschool yard. Parent meetings are a great way to contribute and have your say in the program. There are also some duty days that we still need filled in the next few months. Many hands make light work!

We will be having another Parent Education Workshop on Sunday, April 7th from 4pm - 6pm. This one is probably your last chance to participate and get some excellent support with your parenting challenges. The one in March was fantastic! Childcare can be provided.

I am so looking forward to having more fun outside and in the gardens...exploring our world with your children!
